20th - 21st May, the second GLOSSA project meeting was held in wonderful Brno, in the Czech Republic. At this meeting, the partners completed their full agenda and drew together the research that had been done on the content and the pedagogy for the methodologies.

They then made decisions about these areas of the project. They also prepared the research for the next phase of the project: the identification criteria for the professional profile of foreign language teachers that teach adults in non formal environment.
