

The training of teachers program on the online teaching of Greek which was developed as part of the GLOSSA 2 project has received official accreditation by the International Organisation ICC – International Language Association.

As a result of this accreditation, the language teachers that are participating (and will participate in the future editions) in the online seminar which is organised by the Hellenic Culture Centre and Action Synergy will be able to receive official accreditation by this international organisation.